HALF OF GALVESTON IS WIPED OUT LIST OF KILLED FOOTS UP TO 2,000

West Indian Hurricane Sweeps the Gulf Coast and Its Trail Is Marked By Thousand of Lives and Great Property Loss.

SABINE PASS IS REPORTED WIPED OUT

Other Towns Along the Coast Are Isolated and Total Destruction Is Feared—Waves Sweep Eight Miles Inland—Terrible and Widespread Disaster.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 10.—[Special Telegram]—The Houston & Texas Central officials at noon received bulletins from their general offices at Houston. The loss of life will reach three thousand in Galveston.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad relief forces near Galveston and along the coast telegraphed at noon that the loss of life would be not less than five thousand and may reach ten thousand.

New York, Sept. 10.—[Special Telegram]—Richard Spillane, formerly a well known New York newspaper man, but lately a resident of Galveston, Tex., telegraphs from Houston this morning saying:

"Just in from Galveston. Thousands are dead. The bay is strewn with stranded ocean vessels. The city is in ruins. The tragedy is one of the greatest of modern times."

Loss of Life 2,000.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 10. [Special Telegram].—The Post in an extra edition says:

Additional particulars of the storm at Galveston show about 2,000 drowned and $10,000,000 in property destroyed. Not a building in the city escaped damage.

All the bath houses on the beach were demolished and the attendants drowned. The Lealy hospital was destroyed and most of the patients drowned.

All of the big grain elevators, one containing a million bushels of wheat were destroyed.

The Ball high school and Rosenberg school buildings were leveled, and many persons taking refuge in them were killed.

Eight Steamers Wrecked.

Eight big steamships in the port were wrecked.

All three of the railway bridges and the county bridge across the main land to Virginia point were swept away and the bridge tenders and their families were drowned.

The loss of life and property is simply appalling. The entire island is submerged and the water was eight feet deep on Tremont avenue, the highest point in the city.

Need of immediate relief is pressing.

Many soldiers Killed.

The barracks in which the regular soldiers were stationed was destroyed, and it is believed that all but fifteen of the full company are dead.

Among the vessels known to be ashore are Kendal Castle, Taunton, Mexico and Gila.

The Pensacola with a crew of thirty-six put to sea during the storm and it is feared all are lost.

At noon Sunday the water had receded from the higher portions of the city. There are many narrow escapes at the union passenger station where scores had sought refuge. Several were killed.

there are a hundred patients and attendants.

At least fifty were killed in the Rosenberg school house which collapsed soon after scores took refuge there.

Is Not Overdrawn.

New Orleans, La, Sept. 10. [Special Telegram].—Advises to cotton brokers this morning state that the reports of the wreck at Galveston is not overdrawn. Several members of the Cotton Exchange have been killed and the secretary badly injured.

Spot cotton orders have been cancelled as the cotton was blown away out of the warehouses and in many cases the dealers killed.

Southern Pacific officials say it will be several weeks before any sort of traffic communications can be established and several months more before the bridges can be restored.

All the grain elevators, cotton warehouses and terminal buildings belonging to the company are demolished. Incoming ships report a terrible experience.

Storm Is Moving North.

Washington, Sept. 10. [Special Telegram].—The weather bureau reports a tropical storm central this morning over Oklahoma City, having the character of a cyclone. The bureau is using every effort to reach Galveston by wire instructing its agents adjacent to the storm center to spare no pains to secure news.

Sabine Pass is Safe.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 10.—[Special Telegram].—The damage at Sabine Pass and Port Arthur is not so great as at first reported. Only a few small buildings on water front at Sabine Pass were destroyed, and two lives lost. At Port Arthur two pleasure piers were swept away, but no buildings destroyed.

FROM 2600 TO 8000 ARE DEAD

Many Texas Cities Laid Low by a Ferocious Hurricane

Houston, Texas, Sept. 10.—Galveston is the center of a grand horror that spreads all over southern Texas.

The hurricane that began Saturday noon and did not finish its work until late yesterday devastated the country for 100 miles around, wiping whole towns out of existence and killing men and women by the thousand, but it spent its worst force on Galveston.

And the full horror of the fate of that city is not yet known.

Galveston Cut Off.

For thirty hours Galveston has been cut off from communication with the outside world. One or two men have made their way from its island location to the mainland, and they know little in detail to report except that an awful disaster has overtaken the city.

They report it under water, with 4,000 houses destroyed by the hurricane and with probably more than 2,000 persons killed. Some of them place the loss of life as high as 3,000, but the average estimate is 2,000.

Governor Sayers

reports he has advice pointing to the larger number.

Towns Reported Injured.

SMITHVILLE—Badly wrecked. BASTROP—Loss of life great. TAYLOR—Town partially destroyed. TEMPLE—Great damage. CORPUS CHRISTI—Reports of a great disaster.

ROCKPORT—Town much damaged. CHENANGO JUNCTION—Town was badly wrecked. Bodies of nine negroes taken from one house.

BROOKSHIRE—Wiped out. Four bodies recovered. Four houses remain standing. SEABROOKE—Two bodies recovered. Seventeen persons missing. Only two houses left standing.

HEMPSTEAD—Twenty per cent of buildings wrecked. MORGAN'S POINT—Three drowned. HITCHCOCK—Suffered great losses. ALVIN (2,200 inhabitants, twenty miles north west of Galveston)—Practically demolished. Seven lives lost.

ALTA LOMA—Not a building standing. PEARL—Lost half its buildings. CYPRESS—Twenty per cent of buildings wrecked. HOCKLEY—Twenty per cent of buildings wrecked.

WALLER—Twenty per cent of buildings wrecked. PEARLAND—Not a single house standing. PATTON—Under water. ROLLEVER—Under water. WINNIE—Under water.

PORT ARTHUR—Six lives lost. CHAPPEL HILL—Wrecked. BRINHAM—Wrecked. GALVESTON—2,000 dead, 4,000 buildings destroyed. SABINE PASS—Two lives lost twenty buildings destroyed.

PORT ARTHUR—Piers swept away. HOUSTON—One death, great property destruction.

Other towns and cities have suffered even worse than Galveston in proportion to their size. Sabine Pass, south of Port Arthur, is believed to be no longer in existence.

Northwest of Galveston in the direction of Houston there are few towns which have not lost the majority of their houses. Some of the small places have not a house left standing.

Houston suffered terribly, having damage done to its buildings to the extent of $250,000, but escaping as far as is known, with the loss of only one life.

Storm Sweeps North.

The storm swept north from here through the state, wrecking towns in its path and doing great damage, but nothing comparable to that done further south, and especially on the gulf shore.

Until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Houston itself was without telegraphic communication with the world to the north. It is still unable to communicate with Galveston and the cities to the south.

Terror of Citizens.

The hurricane so terrified people that many of them were unwilling to venture out of their houses or out of the wrecks of their houses still standing; but nevertheless some of them have been making strong efforts to go to the succor of Galveston.

Three relief trains started from here yesterday for the south. Two of them did not get far, but the third, which left in the afternoon, managed to get over the rails as far as a spot six miles this side of Virginia Point, which is on the mainland, across the bay from Galveston.

Blocked by Debris.

Then the broken track and the debris piled everywhere on the route prevented their further progress.

The trainmen and members of the relief party report scenes of horror that are almost indescribable. They counted 200 bodies from the car windows as they passed. They saw great piles of debris of all kinds, lumber, pianos, trunks and furniture, mixed helter skelter.

Steamer Is Stranded.

Beyond railroad tracks and bridges were washed away. They could not see anything of Galveston in the distance only ten miles away.

A few miles beyond them they saw, however, a large steamer, which looked as if it had been thrown up by a tidal wave, but they could not get to it.

Bridges Washed Away.

Two men who had managed to float across to the mainland were picked up by this party. They reported that the bridges in Galveston had been washed away; that the elevators were swept into the gulf, and that so many lives lost that they could not begin to estimate them.

One of the men gave it as his opinion, however, that 2,000 deaths would be a conservative estimate.

Out from Galveston.

The worst indication of the fate of Galveston are found in the fact that the water at Virginia Point was apparently fifteen feet deep. That depth would mean high enough water completely to submerge the island on which Galveston is situated.

James O. Timmons, general superintendent of the National Compress company, was the first man to escape from LaCrosse, Wis., Sept. 10.—[Special Telegram]—Gov. Roosevelt arrived over the Milwaukee road at 11 o'clock this morning. Everything was in readiness for the big republican jubilee when the New Yorker arrived and one of the largest crowds ever seen in this city greeted Teddy when he stepped from the train at the depot, but there was no formal demonstration. He was escorted to the Cameron house amid the wildest cheering.

At 1:15 the candidate left the hotel in an open carriage escorted by the Juvenile life and drum corps, and proceeded to the hall. This gave an opportunity for all to see the distinguished guest.

The afternoon meeting was for the people from out of town and people from the city were asked to kindly give way to the visitors.

Policemen were stationed at the doors and the crowds were allowed to enter only as fast as they could be taken care of by the ushers.

At 7:30 Gov. Roosevelt will again leave the Cameron house, in an open carriage, escorted by the McKinley and Roosevelt marching club of Sparta and bands. Everyone, irrespective of party, has been asked to decorate his residence and place of business, especially along the line of march.

The crowd present is estimated at nearly 15,000 from outside points. The enthusiasm was demonstrative and very cordial.

BIG MINERS STRIKE MAY BE AVERTED

In Five Days if the Operators Do Not Consent to Arbitration the Men Will Quit Work.

Indianapolis, Sept. 10.—The executive board of the United Mine Workers of America adjourned sine die yesterday after giving President John Mitchell power to order a strike in the Pennsylvania hard coal fields, if the negotiations now in progress should fail to result in a peaceable settlement, favorable to the miners.

In an interview last night Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson said the statement issued was understood to be a conditional order for a strike. "It does not require an official order," he added, "to cause the men in the anthracite regions quit work, but whenever they are notified that negotiations are off, the order to strike is operative and will be immediately enforced."

Woodpeckers Work Destruction to the Measure of Telephone Ticks

Topoka, Kan., Sept. 10.—Woodpeckers are destroying the Missouri Pacific railroad station at Lydon. In two weeks they have perforated the east end. The boys of the town drive them away with stones and clubs, but they always return and renew their work of destruction. The station agent says they peck away in unison with the ticks of the telegraph instruments. The upper half of the east end of the station is a wreck. In the early morning these red headed birds may be seen flying toward the station from every direction.

DEUTSCHLAND WON GREAT OCEAN RACE

Cherbourg, Sept. 10.—[Special Cablegram]—Concluding the greatest ocean race in history, the Hamburg-American Deutschland was sighted at six o'clock this morning, and at nine was disembarking passengers.

The former champion Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse is not yet sighted. The Deutschland arrived at Plymouth at two o'clock this morning, beating the Kaiser four hours, and sailing again for Cherbourg at 3:20 o'clock.

Frank Higsbee, of the Red Cross society, one of the passengers said the race was so strenuous that it was necessary to constantly play a loose on the machinery to keep the wood-work from igniting. The men in the engine rooms were stripped to the waists and sawed constantly with the water. On Wednesday both vessels were close together all day.

DISPLAY OF HORSES AT THE STATE FAIR

Janesville Men Have a Long String at Milwaukee—Races Expected to Draw Large Crowds.

Milwaukee, Sept. 10.—The busiest place in Milwaukee county today was the state fair grounds, where the annual exhibition will open tomorrow. Exhibitors and aids were at work in every building, shed and tent arranging the displays which include everything from a delicate flower or an exquisitely painted picture to a fat porker or a pumpkin.

Every department is overrunning with first class entries and if Jupiter Pluvius remains quiescent until Friday the big fair is bound to be a great success.

Fine Display of Horses.

George G. Cox of Mineral Point, superintendent of the horse department, said that in the exhibits of Alexander Galbraith and the McLay Brothers of Janesville, and of E. C. Clarke of St. Cloud, Minn., those who attended the fair would see specimens of the highest grade Clydes and hackneys in the world. The entries in his department, he said, exceeded 200.

Races at the Fair

The largest and finest string of horses that have ever been gotten together in Wisconsin for a race meet is now at the track at the state fair grounds, awaiting the opening of the meet which will be on Tuesday. Of the 180 horses which comprise the 230 entries over 150 were on hand last evening and the balance, mostly from the races at Hamline, Minn., are expected today.

The track is in excellent condition and the horsemen are delighted with it. There is a firm belief that the race record of the track, which is a little slower than 2:07 will be lowered. Star Pointer got a mark of 2:04½ in an exhibition on the grounds. The program is as follows:

Tuesday—2:36 trot, 2:40 pace, 2:17 pace. Wednesday—2:40 pace, 2:40 trot, 2:31 pace. Thursday—2:34 pace, 2:18 trot, free-for-all. Friday—2:24 pace, 2:22 trot, 2:13 trot.

POWERS BENT ON DIVIDING CHINA

England and Germany Will Stay—Russia and America to Withdraw.

PERIOD OF DIPLOMACY

Pekin Will Be Merely a Camp For Foreign Army Pending a Settlement.

COSSACKS MURDER CHINESE

Washington, Sept. 10.—[Special Telegram]—Gen. Chrfee cables via Taku, dating his dispatch Sept. 4, saying:

"Evidence accumulates that diplomatic relations will not be resumed here for a long time. The Russian legation leaves soon for Tien Tsin. It appears to me certain that the Chinese government will not return here while the foreign army remains. In my opinion Pekin will be merely a camp for the foreign army pending the settlement by the powers at other points."

Cossacks Kill Chinamen.

London, Sept. 10.—[Special Cablegram]—A Daiziel telegram from Shanghai quotes an American eye witness of fighting at Blagorest chock saying after an attack on the city 3,500 Chinamen were ordered to leave and as they were going out Cossacks fell upon them and robbed and massacred all but a small number.

Prince Ching in Pekin.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The Japanese legation in Washington today received a dispatch stating that Prince Ching had entered Pekin under escort of Col. Shiba, a Japanese soldier and several hundred men.

This news was at once communicated to Dr. Hill, who regards it as the most hopeful intelligence regarding the Chinese situation that has been received from any source. Prince Ching is friendly to foreigners and an influential member of the Tsug-li-yamen.

It is believed that his arrival at Pekin will quickly pave the way for the return of the emperor and empress and the restoration of law and order.

To Protect the Emperor.

The next move of the state department according to the authentic information that came from the white house today will be to direct a note to the powers asking them to indicate whether or not they are willing to protect the emperor and empress from harm and sustain the regime, if they will act in harmony with the demands of Europe and the United States, and also to indicate anew whether they are standing by their original disavowals of purpose to seize upon territory as indemnity for outrages sustained.

Concert Will Be Broken.

The note has been prepared by Dr. Hill and approved by the president. It will be sent out, in all probability during the present week, immediately after all of the powers have forwarded their replies to the Russian note relative to the withdrawal of troops.

It indicates that the state department believes that the concert is or will be very hopelessly broken; that troops will be withdrawn from Pekin and that unless Germany declares war the future work in China will be performed altogether by the diplomats.

England and Germany Agree

Berlin, Sept. 10. (Special Cablegram)—It is learned that Germany and England have agreed not to evacuate Pekin until the Chinese government has given the fullest satisfaction for losses sustained.

Washington, Sept. 10. (Special Telegram).—Minister Wu, this morning transmitted to the state department the royal edict dated two weeks ago appointing Li Hung Chang commissioner to settle all difficulties with full power.

In the Forbidden City.

Pekin, Sept. 10. (Special Cablegram) Contingents of the allies numbering three thousands, marched through the forbidden city today, the leaders inspecting the palaces. Nothing was touched by the foreigners.

McKinley at a Wedding

Washington, Sept. 10. (Special Telegram). President, Mrs. McKinley and party left this morning in a private car for Somerset, Pa., to attend the wedding of Miss McKinley to Dr. Baer. Afterwards the President goes to Canton.

Japanese Immigrants

Is estimated that last year close to 10,000 Japanese landed in British Columbia, and that fully 90 per cent of them eventually found their way across the border.

FAT SALT PORK IS MOST NUTRITIOUS

EGGS ARE ONE OF THE LEAST NOURISHING OF FOODS.

Dried White Beans Are More Than Eight Times As Good—Fish is No Brain Food and Oysters Have No Nutrient Value—Food Analysis by Prof. Atwater.

New York, Sept. 10.—Few persons know what a square meal is, according to Professor Atwater, the Connecticut scientist, who makes a specialty of analyzing food and determining its values. He has just concluded a series of remarkable experiments and the result is that he finds very few know what to eat.

Salt Pork Is Best

It is common, for instance, to imagine that a sirloin steak is one of the most nutritious of meats. Professor Atwater has found that salt fat pork, for instance, is more than twice as rich in nutriment and in fuel value. By fuel value is meant the property which furnishes heat and energy to the body.

The World this morning has the story of Atwater's discoveries, and according to the eminent experimentalist there is also a common misapprehension concerning eggs. Most people eat eggs, even with an effort, deluding themselves by the thought that they are nourishing. Now eggs are one of the least nutritive of foods. Dried white beans are more than eight times as nutritious as eggs. Oysters are one of the poorest of our foods in nutrient value, while fish are almost equally valueless as muscle producers.

Fish Is Not Brain Food

Professor Atwater announces that the popular idea that fish are rich in phosphorus and are consequently excellent as a brain food is a mistake. There are a score of common food producers more valuable as brain food than fish. The foods which are richest in nutrients and fuel will also be a surprise to most people. Among meats fat salt pork is in reality the most valuable food. None of the meats or fishes compares, however, with beans, rice or potatoes. Sugar is found to be very valuable as a nutrient. Professor Atwater commends candy, especially for children, as one of the most nutritious of foods.

The cereals far outrank other foods for both nutrient and fuel values. Even in this analysis the popular idea is contradicted and we find oatmeal ranking far below wheat flour. The most valuable of all our food products in point of nutrient and food value is cornmeal.

A chaperon was on each car, but the young women collected the fares. Trolley parties were in order and during the day prominent musicians added to the attractions on the various car lines.

College Request in Doubt.

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 10.—The will of the late Professor Emerson gives his property worth $10,000, to Beloit college residence and six building lots, a lease, with a provision that his wife have a life occupancy and annuity of $500. It is suggested that a serious complication may arise over the estate, as this property came to him by a will from his first wife, who provided that in case of his death it go to their children.

CURES WOMEN SCOLDS.

Wilkesbarre Mayor Looks Two in Room and They Make Up.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 10.—Mayor Nichols has devised a new punishment and a successful cure for scolding women. Mrs. Kate Ryan and Mrs. Mary Burke were before him. They had quarreled over a backyard fence until the neighborhood was aroused. They quarreled in the mayor's court-room until he could not hear himself think and the bluecoats were restive. In despair the mayor ordered them locked in a small room together and told them to give full swing to their tongues. They did not need any encouragement for the first hour. The end of the third hour found them weak and in tears, and half an hour later they fell upon each other's neck and swore undying friendship. Then the mayor sent them home, and all the town chuckles at his wisdom.

LA CROSSE OFFICER SLAIN.

Shot by Three Highway Robbers Who Had Held Up a Man.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 10.—Patrolman Perry Gates was shot dead by a trio of thieves, whom he was about to arrest for holding up a man on the La Crosse road and robbing him of $5. The men came to the city, and it was the intention of the officers to arrest them at the wagon bridge. On their way to the bridge they met the robbers, and Gates ordered them to halt, whereupon the three lined up on the sidewalk and pulling their revolvers fired at the policeman, each shot striking him, one on each arm and the other in the abdomen.

Gates fell out of the patrol wagon and dropped dead on the ground. The shots frightened the horses, and his companion, Officer Schubert, was unable to control them and they ran away. The robbers fired several shots at Schubert, but none of them struck him. The trio ran down Fourth street and escaped.

MASSACRE OF MANY WHITES.

Negroes Kill Whole Families in New South Wales.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 10.—By the steamer Warrimoo, which arrived yesterday from Australia, via Honolulu, comes a terrible story of massacre by the blacks in New South Wales.

A band of nearly 500 natives, armed with tomahawks, have been on the warpath and terrorized whole districts by their atrocities.

When the vessel left, the police and a large posse of men were in pursuit of the fiends.

The first massacre was reported from Bereleng.

Here an entire family of the name of Mawbey, consisting of the mother and three children, and two friends, were massacred.

The killed were Mrs. Mawbey, Hilda Mawbey, Percy Mawbey, George Mawbey, Elsie Clarke and Miss Kerse.

The first intimation of impending danger the family had was a battering at the doors of the house. The women and children hid themselves in an upper room. But the infuriated blacks broke open the doors with their tomahawks.

The next place visited was the house of Alexander McKay, an old man. They split his skull open.

On they went on their bloodthirsty errand, and the next victims were a mother and her infant child. Mrs. O'Brien lived about five or six miles from the McKay homestead. Her husband was away when the blacks arrived.

They killed the woman with a rifle and they battered out the brains of her child.

They pursued their way into the bush, everywhere strewn their track with blood.

Everyone is hurrying into the towns and cities, and no one dare live in the open country. The inspector of the New South Wales police reports that it would be hard to exaggerate the slaughter and the terrified condition of the inhabitants of the district.

Each Democratic Ticket.

Salt Lake City, Sept. 10.—The Democratic state convention completed its ticket as follows: Governor, James H. Moyle; secretary of state, Fisher S. Harris; treasurer, R. C. Lund; auditor, S. S. Hayes; attorney general, A. J. Webber; superintendent instruction, N. T. Porter; supreme judge, J. W. M. Whitecotton; congressman, W. H. King; electors, O. W. Poers, I. C. Thorenson, A. H. Tarbell.

Burned Him Till Death Came.

Beatrice, Neb., Sept. 10.—George Noe, a prominent resident of this county, was arrested, charged with being a participant in the murder of David Jones, a wealthy farmer living near Wynore, who was tortured to death two years ago. Jones was bound and gagged and his feet burned with a coal oil flame in the hopes that he would divulge the location of his money. Noe says he is innocent.

Socialists Stoned in Holland.

Antwerp, Sept. 10.—The reception given the well-known Socialist Deputy Troelstra at Waalkijk, when he attempted to deliver a lecture, was rough. Troelstra and his supporters were hissed and stoned. All the public halls were refused him, and at other towns the mayor was obliged to close the halls owing to the threatening attitude of the public.

If the Baby Is Cutting Teeth.

Secure and use the old and well tried remedy Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

To All Concerned.

All members of the defunct Masonic Aid Insurance Company who have received notice of assessments due the Northwestern Life Insurance company are requested to meet at the office of Dr. Sutherland in Hayes block, Wednesday evening, Sept. 12th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Bound to Visit Show.

Lebanon, Ind., Sept. 10.—George Stevenson, a farmer eighty-three years old, living near Zionsville, has run away to see the Paris exposition.

Stevenson several days ago went to Indianapolis ostensibly to do some trading. His relatives heard no more from him until Thursday, when they received a letter from New York. In the letter he said he had secured passage on an ocean liner for Paris, and would sail Wednesday. Stevenson is well-to-do. He was at one time commissioner of Boone county.

Queen Victoria to Visit Germany.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—It is said in court circles here that Queen Victoria will visit Dowager Empress Frederick next month unless the latter's condition meanwhile should considerably improve, which is not probable.

Seventy-Five Couples Wed

LABORERS' VISIT TO PARIS.

How Some Were Helped to the Exposition.

Dr. William H. Tolman, secretary of the League for Social Service, who lately returned from Paris, expresses himself as follows, says the New York Post, regarding the laboring man at the exposition:

"Through the wisdom of the board of managers of the coal mines of Anzin, of which company M. Casimir-Perier is an influential member, 6,000 of the miners will be brought to Paris in groups of 500 each to spend a day at the exposition. The visit will be made on a day that is most convenient for them, and in every way the trip will be so arranged as to result in the greatest benefit to the men. I suggested to M. Perier that after all the men had made the trip he should hold a 'get together' meeting, when selected miners in five minute talks should tell what they had seen of greatest interest in the exposition. He also promised photographs of the party as they were leaving Anzin and on their arrival in Paris.

"At the large dye works of Sir Robert Pullar in Perth there are various movements for improving the condition of the employees. Early in the summer Sir Robert announced that he would give any of his workmen who wished to spend his holiday at the exposition $40 toward the expense of the trip. Nearly 60 of the men are availing themselves of that offer. Each of them has been requested to make a memorandum of anything of interest in the exposition. These visits cannot fail to be of the greatest value to the workman because by bringing him in touch with new ideas he cannot fail to absorb some that will make him a more skilled laborer. The employer gains, for he is constantly on the lookout for an opportunity to advance any one of his force who shows that he can respond to an increasing demand on his skill and intelligence. Sir Robert has been one of the most prominent promoters of l'Exposition Internationale, which is filling such a large place in the exposition."

A Few Corn Extractions.

Corn oysters are good if properly made. Half grate on a rather fine grater eight cents of corn that is neither young nor very old, scraping out all the remaining pulp from the hulls on the cob. Add to this the beaten yolks of two eggs, one level teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth as much pepper and the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Fry in little cakes shaped like oysters in a spider in sweet leaf lard hot enough not to soak into the butter readily. If the corn is so watery that the cakes spread too much, add crackers dust to make the batter stiffer. Use neither milk nor flour.—Ella Morris Kretschmar in Woman's Home Companion.

Calve Slept at Windsor.

If Calve did win a wager of $1,000, by sleeping at Windsor castle, the night she sang there for the queen's entertainment, she will probably not be invited soon again. It is Queen Victoria's custom on these occasions to send the performers back on the same evening, but Mme. Calve, according to the story, had such a cold that she was invited to remain. She is said to have wagered $10 against $1,000 with Alfred Rothschild that she could do it.

Samuel Alschuler Ill.

Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 10.—Samuel Alschuler came here and was taken ill, so ill, in fact, that he services of a physician were necessary. As a result he did not speak at the afternoon meeting, but instead went to Paxton, where he is billed to speak later. The meeting in the afternoon was addressed by James A. Todd and Charles Voris. The evening meeting was addressed by B. F. Wilson and H. C. Bell.

Man Killed at a Crossing.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Nicholas Witkowski, a barber, was found dead on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad tracks at the Panhandle crossing. The body was mutilated and the indications were that he had been struck by a freight train which passed there a few minutes before.

Tired Out

And she does not understand why. Her work used to seem so easy. You could tell her whereabouts as she worked by the snatches of song which now and again overflowed her happy lips. And now she can hardly keep up. Her head pains, her back hurts, and she feels entirely worn out.

What is the matter? The probability is that the stomach is disordered, the liver is not performing its whole duty. For when these organs are accumulating in the blood, and unless these are removed, and the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition cured and strengthened, there is liable to be a serious illness. There is no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for prompt help and perfect cure for diseases of the stomach and blood. It strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and brings back the happy days of health, when life is all song and sunshine.

"I suffered ten months from a complicated case of liver complaint, constipation, indigestion, suppression of monthly function, and kidney disease, too," writes Miss Lulu M. Brittle, of Iowa. "I also suffered excruciating pain in my back and head. I am glad to say that six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and two bottles of Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla cured me entirely. I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all sufferers."

Cleanest in America.

The Lackawanna Railroad is the cleanest railroad in America. Even though it cared little for the comfort of its passengers, which it does, it probably would burn hard coal, for the reason that it owns the most extensive anthracite coal mines in Pennsylvania, and it is cheaper for it to burn hard coal, which makes no smoke, than soft. At any rate, there is no smoke from its locomotives. It is built for the most part through the mountains where rock is the material easiest of access, and its road-bed for that reason is rock ballasted. There is therefore, no dust. These two things are of unusual interest to the traveler by the line, for the reason that on no other road in the United States is there stronger incentive to keep one's eyes open to the passing scene. It is said of this line truthfully that every mile is picturesque. It traverses the agricultural region of Western New York, the valley region of Central New York, the mountain region of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and every mile offers a view that is beautiful, interesting and entrancing. In point of comfort its passengers are particularly fortunate, for, in addition to there being no smoke or dust, the cars are roomy and scrupulously clean. Sleeping cars, parlor cars and dining cars offer all the conveniences and comforts of modern travel.

AS TO OFFICIAL DUTIES.

Editor Gazette.—1. Does the mayor make oath that he will discharge the duties of his office?
2. What would be his duty in case of transgressions on the part of other city officers?
3. Can an alderman legally draw pay from the city treasury? If not would an alderman who voted to pay him be subject to any penalty?
4. What is the penalty prescribed, and what power does the council have, in case a city officer violates the charter or ordinances?
5. In case the mayor or council refused or neglected to execute a duty, could a citizen take any action?

A SKEPTIC.
1. Yes, the mayor takes an oath of office.

2. With reference to other officials, the charter is explicit. It enumerates the sworn upon oath duties of the mayor, with reference to the other city officers as follows:

"He shall also take care that the laws of the state and the ordinances are duly enforced, observed and respected, and that all other executive officers of the city discharge their respective duties."

Thus it will be seen that the mayor is bound by his oath to enforce the state laws and the city ordinances, and if he has knowledge of any violation of either by other city officers, he disregards his oath in not proceeding against them.

3.—No alderman can legally draw pay from the city treasury, or be interested financially directly or indirectly, in any city contract. The charter says:

"No member of the common council shall be competent to hold any other office or appointment of which the emoluments are paid from the city treasury, or paid by fees directed to be paid by any act, order resolution or ordinance of the common council, or be directly or indirectly interested in any contract the expense or consideration whereof are to be paid under any ordinance or other action or direction of the common council."

Clearly, under this section, no alderman can draw a salary from the city without violating the charter. With reference to the penalty for voting to pay money illegally, the charter says:

"Every member of the common council who shall vote to draw any order on, or appropriate any money from any fund for or on any claim or demand against the city, not properly payable out of such fund, shall forfeit and pay the sum of $50 for each and every offense."

Under this section the fifty dollar fine can be collected from each alderman for every vote cast in paying an illegal order. No order drawn or signed in violation of the charter, is "properly payable" out of any fund whatsoever.

4.—The common council has the authority to remove from office by a two-third vote, any of their own members or other city officers as the penalty for a violation of duty or a violation of the charter, ordinances, rules, regulations or by-laws of the city.

Thus it will be seen that the charter provides the remedies for any of the cases mentioned by the correspondent, and the mayor is held by the charter to be responsible for the enforcement of such remedies. If he does not enforce them, the council can remove him from office, as above stated for a "violation of duty."

5.—A citizen can certainly act if action be necessary. A tax payer has two remedies, first, a legal remedy, second, a remedy administered at the ballot box, on election day. The first named is the quickest and surest, but the latter never fails to effect a cure, although sometimes much has to be endured before the time of reckoning comes.

A dispatch from Mexico, Missouri, says that General D. H. McIntyre, ex-attorney general of Missouri, and a captain in the confederate army who resides in that city, says he will support the national and state republican tickets this year. He has been a life-long democrat. He voted for Palmer and Buckner in 1896. McIntyre gave out a statement declaring that the democratic party is advancing dangerous doctrines. Next!

LaCrosse Chronicle: The renomination of Senator Whitehead of Janesville by acclamation, insures his return to the state senate, which news will be generally received with pleasure and approval by the Senator's many friends throughout the state.

In view of the rumor that a grand jury is to be called this fall, why should not lovers of law and order get together with the idea of furnishing some information that would be for Janesville's good?

Bluffs are dangerous, for if they do not go, the bluffer gets the worst of it. A word to the wise should be sufficient. The way of the transgressor is as hard as it ever was these days.

Tammany has had things its own way for many years, but the day of reckoning is in sight. Let no guilty man escape.

FROM 2,600 TO 3,000 DEAD.

Galveston and reach this city. His trip was a very perilous one, and he reports that at least 4,000 houses in Galveston have been destroyed.

Sabine Pass Cut Off.
He hopes that 1,000 persons drowned will be the limit which the list of dead will reach, but the magnitude of the disaster, he says, may go far beyond this.

The fate of Galveston has possibly been duplicated at other towns all along the gulf. Repeated efforts to reach Sabine Pass from many directions have been unavailing, and the worst is feared.

Hope For Port Arthur.
It is thought that Port Arthur, on comparatively high land, may have escaped destruction, though the loss of life there must have been great.

If the big Port Arthur ship canal has escaped ruin the owner will be very thankful.

Many Towns Wrecked.
As to the country north of Galveston, it is thought that every town on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad south of Waco, every town on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe south of Temple, and every town on the Houston & Texas Central south of Herne has been badly injured.

Telegrams have been received here from most of these places except those still further south than Houston, and hardly one fails to report some deaths, along with a story of many buildings wrecked, in some cases even to the destruction of all the buildings in the town.

Train Is Wrecked.
The only serious railroad accident reported as due to the storm occurred south of here Saturday night. A Santa Fe train was lifted, bodily and blown off the tracks about two miles north of Alvin. Mrs. Prather of Rosenberg, Texas, was killed and half a dozen people were injured.

REPORTS THE LOSS AT OVER 3,000.

Governor Sayers of Texas, on the floods at Galveston and Sabine Pass.

New York, Sept. 10.—The World this morning prints the following:

"Austin, Tex. Sept. 10.—Information has just reached me that about 3,000 lives have been lost at Galveston, with enormous destruction to property. Joseph D. Sayers, Governor.

Says Loss of Life Is Over 2,000.
New Orleans, La. Sept. 10.—Advices regarding the awful effects of the storm which has been raging along the gulf coast of Texas are just beginning to arrive, and the story they tell is fraught with horror. First in importance is the news that Galveston was struck by a tidal wave, and that the loss of life there was between 2,500 and 3,000. The water is fifteen feet deep over Virginia Point.

One message was received this morning fixing the loss of life at 2,600. It came by cable from Vera Cruz, and was later confirmed in a general way.

STATE ELECTION IN MAINE TODAY

Republicans Want a Plurality of 20,000 to 30,000—Democrats to Try to Keep It Below 20,000.

Portland, Me., Sept. 10.—Today the voters will settle the Maine election. The state elects a governor, four members of congress, county officers and a legislature which will choose a United States senator. No one questions the result. It is only the size of the republican plurality that is in doubt. The republicans are still hoping to carry the state by from 20,000 to 30,000, while the democrats hope to keep the plurality below 20,000.

A New Religion.
Koresanthy is a new religion. Dr. Cyrus Teed, its propounder, teaches that the inhabitants of this earth are living on the inside of an enormous shell, with the sun only 900 miles away. There are about 10,000 converts to this new belief.

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

AN INHERITANCE.

By Charlotte Teller.

His steamer chair was drawn up close and facing hers, and he was reading aloud. She watched the play of lines about his mouth and studied his brow and nose. Suddenly she sat up, pushing back the red hood of her cape. "Do you know," she broke in, "no one is really interesting unless he has suffered?"

The reader lost his place and said with some amusement: "Where were your thoughts? Don't you realize that the heroine is just enjoying a psychological moment?"

"I'm not at all interested in the heroine; besides, she's morbid. I am much interested in you," she pulled her cape about her and leaned back—"but I can't interpret the lines in your face at all."

"That's strange," he laughed. "Three days out from Cherbourg and still mysterious. Do you always probe for secrets so quickly?"

There was a suspicion of sarcasm in his voice.

"I beg your pardon," she said, letting her eyes follow the steward with the afternoon coffee. "I'm not probing for secrets. If I were, I should be more skillful."

He leaned over in half apology.

"I am not vain enough to think that you have more than a literary interest in the 'lives' of my face. You are a psychological vivisectionist, purely scientific, with only a trace of sympathy for the case in hand. But do not look always for suffering. There is little of it in the world. Men are fools when they say they suffer."

The tone of hardness in his voice roused her to contradiction, but the look in his eyes kept her words back. Instead of speaking she threw off her rug and walked to the side of the deck, looking down on the steamer. He joined her in apparent forgetfulness of their conversation.

"The dead black of that woman's hair against orange"—he pointed to a woman below them, dipping her black bread into a mug of tea—"wouldn't that be effective in pastel?"

"But you couldn't get those eyes. I should do the whole figure in clay, letting the tragedy come out in the pose of the head and in the lines of the hands."

She spoke meditatively, without assertion.

"That's good," he answered, "but you would need a bit of horizon, or at least a deck rail. And why is it?"—he turned with the impatience of a man who leaves tragedy to novelists—"that you invariably see the pathetic side of everything?"

She was puzzled again by the line in his lower lip. Was it hardness or repression?

"Can you see anything but tragedy down there? Look at that old woman reading her Talmud and wiping her tears on that dingy apron; and that woman with the sick baby—she must have been pretty once—and all of them. How terribly homesick they must be!"

The man shrugged his shoulders.

"Come, let us leave them; they're happy. If they are homesick, that is sentimentality, for they have the waters under them and the sky overhead. If it were all black emptiness, then"—he stopped, and then said, more gently: "Don't you want to walk? You ought not even to think of the troubles of the world."

As they turned the wind blew back her cape, and the red of it blotted the gray of his coat. They paced back and forth, he with a swinging gait and she putting her heels down first. They were both quiet, only nodding to the others who walked round and round the deck. She felt strangely oppressed. After a few moments he stopped beside their chairs.

"The band plays the Sunday service about this time on the other side," he said, "and we'd better sit down before some one else gets these places."

He covered her with a rug and leaned back, with his eyes on the far horizon. She watched the tired look in his eyes fade out.

Then the chords of a German chorale sounded out into the glare of sunlight; they seemed to push the brightness aside and to call the darkness to arise from the depths of the sea. The girl closed her eyes a moment to bring the sound nearer. When she opened them, about to ask the name of the chorale, the man's eyes, full fixed on the distant line of sky, kept her still; they were filled with an awful dread, with a repressed wildness of fear, and they had drawn all the color from his face until it had become a dead white.

As the music came to its somber close he turned toward her, and she bent over and touched his hand.

"I am sorry, I"—She could not say more, and the voice roused him.

"I am afraid now that you will think you have discovered a tragedy in me."

His voice was low, and its tones pressed back the tears in her heart. Her hand, lying on his, grew cold, and he put his other one over it.

"Child, you are making it a little harder for me, and yet I am glad." A mist was sweeping between them, and he leaned forward. "I have just come from a physician who has told me that in a few months my mind will go out into the great darkness. My father, and his father before him, became insane, but I had had such faith in my own strength! And I cannot escape!"

For a moment she was still; then she freed her hand from his and drew his head down to her shoulder.

Miles around there was the twitching of blue waves under a white mist veil, and all that lived—all that was human—was dimmed and softened—Chicago Tribune.

The Absentminded Man.

An absentminded minister of Man-yunk, Pa., tells this story on himself: "I live in one of a row of brick houses that are all exactly alike, and when I came home from a walk one day I saw a new hatrack in the hall. 'I don't think much of your hatrack,' I called up stairs. 'It has a cheap look.' I hung my hat on it and turned into the parlor. A strange young man, a friend of my daughter, I supposed, sat with his feet on the piano stool and smoked a cigarette. I abandoned cigarettes. 'You seem to be making yourself at home,' I observed cuttingly.

"Yes; why shouldn't I?" he retorted, flushing up.

"I looked around the parlor, and the furnishings seemed strange to me. 'By Jove,' I thought, quick as a flash, 'I'm in the wrong house.'"

"And, sure enough, I was. I apologized to all hands, but I was sorry I had said what I did about the hatrack."

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Patient in Paris Hospital With Marks Like Christ's Wounds.

An extraordinary case of religious mania is reported from Paris, says a London dispatch to the New York Sun. The members of the hypnotic congress which is now being held there have paid a visit by special invitation to the Salpêtrière, the hospital for nervous diseases made famous by the investigations carried out at it by Dr. Charcot.

There is one most extraordinary case among the patients at present in the hospital. The patient is a woman of about 40, suffering from religious mania. She entertains the belief that she is crucified, and this delusion has occasioned a contraction of the muscles of the feet of such a nature that she can only walk on tiptoe.

By recourse to suggestion the muscular contraction can be temporarily cured, and for a few hours she recovers the normal use of her feet.

The patient, however, is subject occasionally to still more extraordinary manifestations. Instances are tolerably frequent in the "Lives of the Saints" of alleged cases of stigmata, or supernatural marks on the body in imitation of the wounds of Christ.

These stigmata have been observed beyond all question on the woman at the Salpêtrière. Their appearance on her body coincides with the return of the most solemn religious anniversaries. The stigmata are so visible that it has been possible to photograph them. The doctors of the Salpêtrière, in order to assure themselves that these manifestations were not the result of trickery, contrived a sort of shade having a glass front and metal sides and capable of being hermetically attached to the body by means of india rubber fixings. These shades were placed in a position a considerable time before the dates at which the stigmata are wont to appear.

When they were affixed, there were no marks whatever on the patient's body, but at the expected period the stigmata were visible, as usual, through the glass.

NEW HEALTH FAD.

Air or Sun Baths Recommended in Place of Sea Bathing.

Women who do not look lovely in a wet bathing suit will eagerly adopt a notion which is being advocated by a society of hygienists in London, says Harper's Bazar. "This is that, generally speaking, a sun or air bath is much better for health than an ocean dip."

"The truth is," says an English doctor, "the popular idea of sea bathing is absurd. It is so far from being everybody's tonic that in many cases it is a menace to life. The 'dip' that even frail women heroically force themselves to take, believing it is the right thing to do, is too severe a shock to nerves and systems unaccustomed to sudden or violent exertions."

In place of sea bathing the London hygienists recommend air or sun baths taken lying on the beach in the lightest possible attire compatible with the proprieties. It is a fact established in medical science that mere exposure of the body to the air produces physical changes that go far toward counteracting the degenerating effects of civilized life. The course recommended, therefore, by this latest health fad is to lie at ease on the sand, basked in sunshine and fresh air, and afterward have a thorough rubbing down, which process further invigorates a worn body. Happily for those who are poor in purse as in health, this fresh air cure may be taken without the expense of traveling to summer resorts.
